

Are you always on?

So when do you tune in?

Great leadership begins where Wi-Fi ends.

Boris Brändli

Hi, am Boris – Son of a Mountaineer and ex Swiss Army Trombonist

- Climbed my first 4000 meter peak at age nine.
Snowstorm humbled me under pressure.
- Global HR Background, ex Head People & Culture
- I work with Leaders who seek clarity over noise.

My signature approach?

- I take you for a day into the Swiss alps.
- We hike. We breathe fresh air. We reflect.
- ✓ You tune in. Find clarity. Come back strong.

One day. No slides. No signal. Just You.

What happens

- I pick you up with my car from your home .
- We head to a Swiss Alpine (SAC) mountain hut.
- A full day experience, nothing extreme
- We hike slowly. We stop. We breathe air.
- Along the way we stop for guided reflection.
- We share a picnic, fresh air, fresh thinking.
- We return late afternoon – lighter, clearer.

What you gain

- ✓ You regulate your nervous system through slow movement, shifting to calm.
- ✓ You unlock perspective through deep, structured reflection.
- ✓ You leave loneliness behind and benefit from exchange with a senior.
- ✓ You reconnect with what matters – away from noise, urgency, egos.
- ✓ You return re-charged, focused and grounded, ready to lead unmatched.
